Description of Request-Preamble:
On 27 January 2026, in an email to my Councillor Mike Elliott, I requested the following:
"In reviewing the City's Snow Clearing Policy, I am left wondering what risk assessment or economic analysis was completed to support it - if any. I would appreciate being provided with any information that was used to support the policy."
On 2 July 2026, I received an email from the Councillor's Senior Strategic Advisor, apologizing for the delay in response, and stating:
"I understand you are requesting the risk assessment and economic analysis regarding the Snow and Ice Policy. We are happy to coordinate with Administration to obtain these documents for you. Please let me know if you would prefer to have Administration contact you directly; this may be the most efficient way to address any follow-up questions you may have regarding those materials."
On 24 July 2026, the Councillor's Senior Strategic Advisor stated in an email:
"Thank you for the update. I will share this information with Councillor Elliott. Additionally, Administration will have the requested risk assessment and economic analysis regarding the Snow and Ice Policy to us by the end of the day today, and the Councillor will respond to you next week."
After repeated requests for delivery of the risk assessment and economic analysis, which were not responded to, on 22 October 2026, the Councillor responded:
"I have been advised you will be required to submit an Access to Information (ATI) request. The ATI coordinators will triage your request to the appropriate teams and guide you through the process."

Request: Please provide any final (i.e., not draft) documents that comprise risk assessment or economic analyses and that contributed to the development of City of Edmonton Procedure Snow and Ice Control Procedure C409K. Note that at the time of the original email request, I was unclear that the City had separate Policy and Procedure documents. This request pertains solely to the Procedure document.
